FLASH FLOOD WATCH IN EFFECT FROM THURSDAY MORNING THROUGH LATE THURSDAY NIGHT

Affected areas include Santa Cruz mountains and Santa Lucia mountains and Los Padres national forest.

Rainfall rates in excess of 3/4 inch per hour are possible from Thursday morning through late Thursday night. It is during these heavy downpours that debris flows or flash flooding are most likely to occur.

IMPACTS
Debris flows or flash flooding is greatest over the recent burn scar areas. However, urban and small stream flooding and rock slides will be possible elsewhere across the region on Thursday.
