Fill a sink with water and give their toys a bath. For more info see childactivities.netHansoph on November 03, 2013: Some really great ideas here for me to try with my almost 3 year old! Early 2 ReadMom on October 22, 2013: Great Lens. We go to different playgroups where the toys are always fresh, new, and exciting to him. The other day, my son and I made some money out of paper. A beautiful lens, and that big parent you have to be. I collect the toys used in garage sales and used stores. Build some interesting combinations (peanut butter and apples?) And then use cookies cuttet (circles, stars, animals, etc.). Very beautiful lens with many great ideas! Large goal! I really appreciate the compilation! Mary Crowther by Havre de Grace July 25, 2011: Nice Lens! Sometimes it's difficult to keep the little ones busy, but you have great ideas! ChicagoHEATHER On 06 July 2011: I am a teacher in preschool and retired asylum, so I can tell the experience that your list of activities is spot-on for this group. What a wonderful list of activities for young children. Each object has a personality and says bye.
